

That's HellermannTyton!

Even in a world that is evolving more and more digitally, "live" customer service is one of the parameters that is given the highest priority by our customers when choosing a supplier who can make their busy working day work optimal.

The overview of order processing, order status, delivery times, price information, submission of product documentation, product samples, etc. and all the internal administration tasks in this context constitute our machine room and are thus a decisive factor for our customers to have an extremely positive experience when they contact us. .

Flexibility and agility are the key words for our processes to be managed and work to the satisfaction of the customers.

Contact our team and take advantage of our expertise

If you have questions for our customer support, Kiss Jensen is your personal contact:

Kiss. Jensen@HellermannTyton.dk

Telephone +45 70 23 71 20

If you need help in the commercial process from preparing offers to processing your order, you can send your inquiry to: htdk@HellermannTyton.dk

Sign up for our Newsletter

