HellermannTyton: Innovative solutions for your specific requirements

Whenever the demand is for a customised solution, you benefit from our knowledge and experience in product development. We work together with you globally to develop new products that are perfectly tailored to meet your individual requirements.

The PMB5 paste adhesive mount: An example of a customised solution

The original solution consisted of a fixing part and a metal plate, which was extremely time consuming to install. Once assembled, it was necessary to apply the adhesive to the metal plate.

The HellermannTyton solution is manufactured out of a single plastic part. It saves mounting time and significantly reduces the costs of the solution.

Advanced engineering expertise: competence you can rely on HellermannTyton has dedicated teams of engineers developing products tailored to customer specifications. We use the most current CAD and rapid prototyping systems and our experienced designers employ advanced development tools to ensure highest quality in our products from the outset. The result: innovative solutions and the opportunity to profit from our strength.

Highly complex plastic parts: Body Control Module bracket fixed to vehicle cockpit wall. Moulded as two separate parts and combined as a single unit on the assembly line.

Choose the right material

Our many years' experience in product development will help you to select the right materials. If a suitable material for your application doesn't exist, we will work closely with you and our raw material suppliers to develop one. We're your reliable partner throughout the complete development process – from first contact to serial production.
